DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election with traverse of Group I claims 1-33 in the reply filed on 3/1/06 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that there is no serious burden to the examiner. This is not found persuasive because there are two distinct inventions and this has not be discounted by the applicant. Each application is entitled to the examination of one invention and not multiple inventions.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1, 3-7, 14-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Xu et al (6949020).

Xu et al discloses pad having a polymeric material (col.4,line 41) and component (col.5, line 53 a polymeric gel), thermoplastic polymer (col.16, line 55),

4. Claims 1-11, 14-23, and 26-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Prasad (6935931).

Prasad discloses the claimed invention of claims 1-11, 14-23, and 26-33. Prasad discloses pad having a polymeric material (col.10, line 30) and component (see claim 9), and thermoplastic polymer (see claim 6).

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 12-13 and 24-25 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The 892 form discloses prior being made of record.
